

RIF Logistics Opens for Business

The continued growth and success of RIF Worldwide is due to continue further with the opening of a new business division – RIF Logistics.

Located in Milton Keynes to provide excellent transport links to all of the UK, RIF Logistics will provide 3rd party logistics services covering a broad array of product management, distribution, inventory control and supply chain solutions, tailored for the unique needs of a customers business model.

RIF Logistics will be headed by Dominic Bacon, who has many years experience within the fast growing 3rd party logistics sector. "We are in the market of providing tailored solutions. I know it is a cliché but we are not just about storing boxes. We will provide pre-retailing services, multi-channel fulfillment, peak season support, returns management. The list goes on, but the main message is that we are not just about storing boxes."

Speaking about the announcement, Scott Sully, Managing Director of RIF Worldwide said: "RIF Logistics will represent the next level of growth for the RIF Group. The services of Dominic Bacon have been enlisted because he is a logistics professional with many years experience at the top end of the market. This is not just another venture by a freight forwarder into a market generally perceived as easy as long as you have a big warehouse and a software system. It is about the quality of people, the expertise they have and the powerful product that is created when combining the services of RIF Worldwide and RIF Logistics".

The growth of RIF Worldwide in the UK has been 100% organic, with no 'strategic mergers' or buyouts playing a part in the growth figures.

Bacon added, "Coupled with the services of RIF Worldwide and their strength in transporting goods worldwide, RIF Logistics has a strong service offering. Given the opportunity we are very confident that we can create efficiencies in any clients business model."
